Normal compressed air pressures for CAC-A range between 80 psi and 100 psi at the torch; higher pressures may be used, but they don't remove metal more efficiently. Use 60 psi (413.7 kPa) with the light-duty manual torch. The air hose supplying air to the torch body should have an inside diameter of at least 3/8" (6.4 mm). www.red-d-arc.com

Explained. Carbon dioxide (CO₂) is one of the most plentiful gases on the planet and is clear byproduct of human activity as we all inhale oxygen and exhale CO₂. It has also been recognized as a method to measure and control cfm/person ventilation rates in buildings called CO₂ DCV (Demand Controlled Ventilation).

This gas is heavier than air and in an enclosed space tends to accumulate near the floor, displacing air and pushing it upward. This creates an oxygen-deficient atmosphere near the floor. Ventilate space before entry. Verify sufficient oxygen concentration. 7.3. Specific end use(s) None. SECTION 8: Exposure controls/personal protection 8.1.
